Remote Sensing of Environment

An Interdisciplinary Journal

VOLUME 34, 1990

Contents

Dar A. Roberts, John B. Adams, and Milton O. Smith
Predicted Distribution of Visible and Near-Infrared Radiant Flux Above and Below a Transmittant Leaf 1

Frank E. Hoge and Robert N. Swift
Photosynthetic Accessory Pigments: Evidence for the Influence of Phycoerythrin on the Submarine Light Field 19

B. Brisco, R. J. Brown, J. A. Koehler, G. J. Sofko, and M. J. McKibben
The Diurnal Pattern of Microwave Backscattering by Wheat 37

G. Zibordi, F. Parmiggiani, and L. Alberotanza
Application of Aircraft Multispectral Scanner Data to Algae Mapping Over the Venice Lagoon 49

J. Hill and D. Aifadopoulou
Comparative Analysis of Landsat-5 TM and SPOT HRV-1 Data for Use in Multiple Sensor Approaches 55

R. E. Crippen
Calculating the Vegetation Index Faster 71

S. Jacquemoud and F. Baret
PROSPECT: A Model of Leaf Optical Properties Spectra 75

Bas A. M. Bouman and Henk W. J. van Kasteren
Ground-Based X-Band (3-cm Wave) Radar Backscattering of Agricultural Crops. I. Sugar Beet and Potato; Backscattering and Crop Growth 93

P. F. Fisher and S. Pathirana
The Evaluation of Fuzzy Membership of Land Cover Classes in the Suburban Zone 121

Brian L. Markham and Suraiya P. Ahmad
Radiometric Properties of the NS001 Thematic Mapper Simulator Aircraft Multispectral Scanner 133

Acknowledgment 151

Alan H. Strahler and David L. B. Jupp
Modeling Bidirectional Reflectance of Forests and Woodlands Using Boolean Models and Geometric Optics 153

Warren B. Cohen, Thomas, A. Spies, and Gay A. Bradshaw
Semivariograms of Digital Imagery for Analysis of Conifer Canopy Structure 167

Bryan J. Albers, Alan H. Strahler, Xiaowen Li, Shunlin Liang, and Keith C. Clarke
Radiometric Measurements of Gap Probability in Conifer Tree Canopies 179

N. T. O'Neill, A. Royer, and L. Hubert
Remote Sensing of Aerosols from Space: Information Content of Monochromatic Atmospheric Reflectances 193

Short Communication

V. K. Choubey and V. Subramanian
Nature of Suspended Solids and IRS1A-LISSI Data: A Case Study of Tawa Reservoir (Narmada Basin) 207
